Lifeguarding 101: What to Expect So You Know How to Protect

Winding Trails Leadership Team

Is this your first year as a lifeguard? Join us as we talk about what to expect as a first-year lifeguard. This will be a round-table session, where you will learn tips and tricks for your first summer. Bring all of your questions and learn from experienced lifeguards how to be the best lifeguard you can be!

Don't be Nervous, We'll Help You with your In-Service: "Upping" your In-Service Game!

Joshua Charette, Recreation Supervisor, Town of Manchester Dept. of Leisure, Family & Recreation

Samantha Charette, Recreation Lead, East Windsor Parks & Recreation

Join us as we discuss strategies and ideas for developing meaningful and impactful in-services for aquatics staff. Geared towards head lifeguards, we will provide examples of a variety of in-service activities that help reinforce skills and keep staff engaged. We will also designate some time to swap ideas and discuss common mistakes when planning in-service!

Swim Lessons: What to Expect So You Can Connect

Lead Swim Instructors and WSIT from The City of Bristol

Are you a new Water Safety Instructor, or looking for some great tips for your lessons? Join us for a session on what to expect as a new Swim Instructor. Learn tips about how to deal with the unexpected within a lesson, and how to communicate effectively with parents.

Customer Service for Teens

Joe Milone, Southern CT State University

Are you the youngest person in the room? Want to learn how to gain the respect of parents at your waterfront? This session will cover the fundamental elements of customer service and how they can be applied to the aquatics profession. Parks and recreation is a demanding service industry that interacts with the public on a daily basis. This session will help teenage staff earn respect from the adults they are interacting with at their facilities. The importance of generating customer interest and creating loyal customers is crucial! We will discuss methods for handling complaint resolution, interacting with parents, and having the best attitude for good service so you are not only listened to, but respected, as well.
