History: The town today known as East Hartford was once inhabited by the Podunk Indians. In 1635, the town saw its first permanent colonists when Thomas Hooker and his followers came from Cambridge, Massachusetts to found Hartford. The east side of the Connecticut River was at that time part of Hartford. Initially settled around 1640, early settlers included William Goodwin, Thomas Burnham and William Pitkin.

The first petition by residents to establish a separate town apart from Hartford was rejected by the General Assembly in 1726. Several more petitions were submitted between that year and 1783, when the Assembly at last gave its approval to the incorporation of East Hartford. The Town then received its charter from the State of Connecticut on the land area taken from the City of Hartford.

Today, the Town of East Hartford is governed by a strong Mayor form of government. The Charter empowers the Mayor to govern the Town in cooperation with an elected nine-member Town Council and Town Treasurer.

Welcome to East Hartford!

East Hartford is a remarkable place to live, work, and raise a family. Our community possesses a dynamic business environment while maintaining its friendly and unique small-town character. East Hartford offers a wide-range of services and amenities for the benefit of residents, businesses and visitors.

East Hartford, known as the crossroads of New England, is located in equal distance between New York and Boston with convenient and easy access to major highways, airports, railways and other modes of transportation.

East Hartford offers a friendly, affordable community rich in history and steeped in tradition. From historical buildings to major international manufacturing organizations, East Hartford has it all: a diverse population, capable workforce, magnificent recreational space and walking trails, great schools, dedicated civic organizations, a strong faith community and citizens who are committed to making East Hartford a very special place to thrive.

East Hartford is home to a broad range of businesses and recently has witnessed new business growth as a result of our generous tax incentives and an efficient and timely building permit approval process.

We welcome you to experience all East Hartford has to offer. Come and enjoy a UConn football game at Rentschler Field, shop at Cabela's mega sporting goods store, or take a walk along our majestic riverfront.

Here in East Hartford our door is always open!

Please make sure to visit our Town of East Hartford website for up to date information on meetings, events and all town happenings.
